

Uma Mahadevan MD, Series Editor

Introduction to a New Series: Dispatches from the GUILD Conference

Uma Mahadevan

The Gastrointestinal Updates in Inflammatory Bowel and Liver Disease (GUILD) Conference is an annual CME conference held in Maui, Hawaii every February. Offering world class faculty, cutting edge interactive clinical sessions and workshops, the GUILD inaugural conference was held February 19-22, 2017. The objective of the meeting is to provide the most up-to-date and practical information on the management of inflammatory bowel disease (IBD) and viral hepatitis, the two areas of our field that change at the most rapid pace, in an interactive and collegial environment.

To share our learning with the gastroenterology community at large, we introduce our new series based on discussions held at GUILD, beginning with the following article, “Practical Use of Therapeutic Drug Monitoring of Anti-TNF Therapy in IBD”.

We look forward to providing informative and educational articles covering IBD and Viral Hepatitis in Practical Gastroenterology over the following months. ■

For more information on the GUILD Conference visit:
guildconference.com

Uma Mahadevan MD, Professor of Medicine, Medical Director, UCSF Center for Colitis and Crohn's Disease